BACON AND NEWTON. [From Harpers' New Monthly]

Bason taught the seventeenth century the science of thought; Newton listened to the authoritative critic and imbibed his spirit --Bacon showed where men had erred; Newton kept his eye on the beacon-light, and never lost for an instantite warning radiance. Bacon declared how Nature ought to be approachedthe shild-like temper, the reverent decility, the simple trustingness, the waiting humility, the perserving energy the invincible hopefulness were the attributes that he commended in one who should inquire in Nature's temple; Newton answered to the splendid ideal. His philosophy was religion in every-day apparel. If, in seasons of enrapturing revelations, it put on its worshiping robes and lifted high its psalm-like praise, it quickly returned to the attitude of a disciple seated at Nature's ders of creation awakened within bim. Bacon stated the language in which the oracles of Nature were to be questioned; Newton adopted it, and was answered. Bacon and Boys' Comforts.

enunciated the cardinal maxims of modern HOUSEKEEPING GOODS.—Brown and enunciated the cardinal maxims of modern science; Newton took the axioms and based on them his demonstrations. What a glorious fellowship! How mighty the summons, how majestic the reponse! Both were giants of thought; how like, and yet how unlike! The one was the most magnificent of theorists; the other was the gigantic genius of reality. If the former laid the sure foundation and erected the massive superstructure of the temple of modern science, the latter opened its portale that the glory of the universe might enter and abide, for all time, above its dedicated strine.

Both these illustrious men were discoverers. Bacon was a discoverer of thought, and Newton of facts. Bacon worked within; Newton without. More perfect parallelism never existed. Acting in completest barmony, they have prospectively secured the material universe to the buman mind. They were the founders of the empire of man over nature. Since their day the history of intellect has be history of progressive growth, of fertile active, of broad enlargement --This is not surprising. Periods of great discoveria have always been followed by intenso and wide-spread intellectual excitement -Men start into new life. They have another consciousness of power. They think higher thoughts and are ready for grander achievements. Proclaim an authenticated truth, and the winds cannot bear it fast and far enough. The waters hasten with it as precious freightage. All nature is in commotion to help it. We never know, except at such times, what a ministry truth has in its service. The firmament is written all over with fiery symbols. The lost Piciad returns to its forsaken orbit, and Orion flames with new splendor. Hidden eloquence in men finds free utterance. Dead Plate and dead Cicero live again in the philosophy and seatiment of the current day. Mind responds to mind. All hearts are put in sudden communication, and the electric thrill throbs through them.

TOM CORWIN'S LAST. At a trial recently held at Yellow Sprir g growing out of a difficulty between some of the students and faculty of Autioch, the "Old Wagon Boy," who represented the faculty, was exhibiting to the jury a foil or cane, belonging to one of the students, which was probably used in the mele. Tom was in his usual bappy mood, and brought down the bouse frequently by his witty illustrations of of fencing: new parrying imaginary thrusts, and anon throwing himself fiercely upon the attack. At last, having exhausted his full store of pleasantries, with one fell thrust be made feint to strike one of the students. Mr. Fisher, who sat near by at d with a look of unfathemable gloom, and the voice of a stentor, be thundered out: "And should attempt to pierce you through." Imagine the roar of laughter which greeted this | Wrappers, &c. eloquent effort of the "old stumper," when the mimicking Corwin's most hombastic style, exclaimed: "I'd welcome you, sir with blook hands, to a hospitable grave" - Ohio Press. MOTHER AND DAUGHTER.

The editor of the Utica Herald says that he once knew a "wild" woman who cut out her own daughter in the good graces of her lover, and married him berself? To obtain revenge for this unmotherly trick the daughter set her cap for the young man's rich father-of whom he was the only heir-and actually married him and had children, to the infinite annovance of the other parties .-This occurred in Onondaga county N. York.

AUTION .- We beg leave to caution purchawhiskies against the deception and petty fraud which is practised by certain parties in this city and in Baltimore, who have appropriated to themselves exact copies of the Star Brands. long used and designed by us to distinguish our Old Whiskies. We can assure our friends and customers, that the unrivailed quality, everywhere acknowledged, of our choice OLD WHIS-KIES, cannot be equalled by these ingenious invaders of our rights. Our new establishment, Girsonton Mills, on the Monongahela River, gives us unequalled facilities for making Whiskey of the choicest kind, from malted and kiln dried grain. Purchasers of our Old Whiskies will please to notice, the words Gibsonton Mills, and John GIBSON, SONS & Co, are inserted in the new Brands which we now adopt; and we deem it a duty we owe to our customers and ourselves, to give notice, that we will prosecute and expose any person or persons who may hereafter copy or use our Brands.

SOUTHERN PROTECTION INSURANCE COMPANY, ALEXANDRIA, VA
CAPITAL OVER $250,000, AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING
The charter of this Company offers more in vorable advantages to the farmer and others, than any other company chartered in the State by insuring with or without a premium note. If the applicant prefer, he can pay the full amount of the premium in cash, or by effecting a cash insurance for two years, the insured saves of a eighth of the amount he would otherwise has to pay: or by becoming a member, and giving a small premium note, the insured saves negry one half of the amount charged by Stork Companies, when insuring from year to year. This the advantage resulting from the combination a

THE CASH AND MUTUAL PRINCIPLE

This company commenced issuing Policies against loss or damage by tire, on the 18th of March, 1854, since which time over five the sand seven hundred persons have theured and b come members of the Company, and over that thousand dollars have been paid for losses. Having trebled our business during the pa-year, we feel grateful for the liberal patronage pestowed upon the Company thus far, and for flattering prospects of future usefulness. To Directors hope and believe that by produc caution and a rigid system of aconomy, will establish for this Company a rejutafor cheapness and safety, not surpassed by any Company in the U. States. All differences in settlement of losses, may be determined by three disinterested arbitraters of the County where such loss happened to be mu tually chosen by the insured and the Company
